Regulatory Compliance

Ensuring the confidentiality, security, and integrity of patient records and personal data is a critical concern for healthcare organizations. HIPAA regulations and guidelines mandate that organizations conduct risk assessments of their Information Security Program on a periodic basis.

The methodology utilized in this risk assessment employs the key auditing standards of the HIPAA Security Rule (2003) and the Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health (HITECH) Act (2009), including updates from the HIPAA Omnibus Rule (2013). This assessment focuses on systems and controls that receive, store, process or transmit ePHI.

The Assessment Process

Our comprehensive and accurate approach was designed to make the risk assessment process as effortless for our clients as possible. BAI Security's experienced assessment team knows exactly which documents and policies to obtain up front, allowing us to minimize individual requests for information over an extended period.

We thoroughly review all the documents received prior to asking our clients questions regarding their policies/ procedures; unlike many other assessment firms, which begin by asking their questions upfront. This allows us to ask questions relevant to your current controls and ensure our meetings run smoothly and efficiently. Additionally, our efficient platform for document submission and tracking the progress of your assessment allows for shorter onsite validation visits, which in turn reduces cost and time requirements for your organization's resources.

After the initial collection of policies, procedures, and validation items, we begin an accurate evaluation based on industry standards and a clear understanding of our client's environment. Once BAI Security has completed the assessment process, your organization will receive documentation reviewing the purpose of your assessment, our methodology, and any findings or recommendations we may have.

These detailed recommendations provide a clear path to compliance, based on industry best practices for any exceptions in the findings.
